Targeted investments have significantly reduced veterans’ homelessness.

Increased and targeted investments from the federal and local level have helped us better coordinate regional resources and streamline our response system resulting in significant progress towards ending Veteran homelessness.

We are also making progress on youth homelessness, specifically for those under the age of 18.

While the overall number of youth and young adults experiencing homelessness remains steady, similar to veterans homelessness, we’ve started to see a reduction in homelessness among minors after considerable state and local efforts to address youth homelessness. With a continued investment of resources and coordinated approaches, we can make an even greater impact.

The unsheltered population is changing.

An increasing number of people experiencing homelessness are living in vehicles. Fewer people are living in tents.

We have increased investments in diversion, which quickly connects people with housing through creative and flexible solutions.

Diversion assists households to identify immediate, alternative housing arrangements outside of the homeless system and, if necessary, connect them with services and financial assistance to obtain housing or stay housed.

Rapid Re-housing is housing more people.

The percent of program participants who successfully obtained permanent housing through rapid re-housing is increasing. Additionally, less than 5% return to homelessness.

We are housing more people every year by investing in what works and transforming our system.

Making homelessness a rare, brief and one-time experience in King County will require the continued dedication and collaboration of stakeholders across sectors and throughout the region.
